SOUTHEASTERN Trains has "massaged" performance figures in an effort to avoid paying angry commuters compensation, according to Thanet MP Roger Gale.

The current contract with Southeastern runs out in 2012, but is expected to be extended for two years despite MPs calling for it to be scrapped following recent criticism over the company's performance.

KCC cabinet member for highways Nick

Chard said to be worthy of winning a new franchise the company had to improve passenger rail information. He also set out objections to the huge fare increases introduced earlier this month, where some routes saw a 12.8 per

"We are aiming to achieve two things," he said. "Firstly, standing up for the people of Kent by representing the requirements of our travelling public. Secondly, developing a strategic rail network to help deliver the economic growth we need during the next 30 years.

Yet despite its poor performance, Southeastern released statistics two weeks ago showing it had run 82.04 per cent of its

Had the company fallen below the 82 per cent target it would have been liable to pay season ticket commuters compensation of five per cent off fares. The figures are now being challenged by MPs.

Offenders help to clean up our town centres

CONVICTS have been put to work in a bid to improve Thanet's town centres.

Offenders forced to take part in the Community Payback scheme – the new name for community service – cleared seven tonnes of rubbish from land next to the Nayland Rock Hotel in Margate.

Community Payback teams also painted the back wall and side walls to smarten up the building

The projects are part of the council's wider Environmental Action Programme (EAP), to improve Thanet's busiest areas, from town centres to main roads into the district, and busy seafront locations.

Clir Martin Wise, cabinet member for environmental services, said: "Often, it's the small things that can make the biggest difference, like lighting repairs, replacing broken fencing and putting in new seating. All these things help to ensure that everyone feels proud of the area they live in."

Court and waste bins in the town's High Street have been replaced.

Similar work to put in new rubbish bins in Margate will take place before the opening of Turner Contemporary.

In Broadstairs, new seating has been installed in High Street, with work now underway in Ramsgate High Street. Over the next few months, work will be carried out to replace broken fencing along the Promenade in Broadstairs.

Repairs have been carried out to the Dolphin lights in Ramsgate and the Sturgeon lights in Margate. Lighting in the arches along Royal Parade has also been repaired.

Work is also due to start on an improved lighting scheme for Margate Old Town, which will see floodlights being installed. This is expected to be completed by spring.

expected to be completed by spring. Cllr Wise said: "The team has been doing a great deal of work across Thanet over the last few months. They'll be working hard over the next couple of months in readiness for the opening of Turner Contemporary in Margate and the start of the main summer season.

Other work planned by the EAP team over the next few months will see a buoy being installed on the verge at the entrance to the Royal Harbour Approach Road.

Plan to flush airport water into the sea

THE Environment Agency is holding a consultation on plans to allow surface water from Manston Airport to be discharged into Pegwell Bay.

Infratil Airports Europe Ltd has applied for a licence that would allow the run-off from the taxiways, aprons and runway of the airport to be passed through an interceptor and flushed into Pegwell Bay.

Representatives from the agency and the airport are meeting with members of the public between 10am and 4pm on Thursday, January 20, at the new Channel Chamber of Commerce on Ramsgate High Street.

Andrew Ogden, environment manager, said: "We are working with Infratil to ensure risks to the water environment from the airport are considered and managed appropriately.

"If granted, the permit will set conditions and we will regulate those to ensure that we protect the environment at Pegwell Bay."

Church raises £1m towards buildings

A BAPTIST church has raised £1 million in two years for a redevelopment project.

Queens Road Baptist Church in Broadstairs, has funded the scheme so far through donations, grants, and fundraising events.

The buildings, due to open in a few months, will include a youth centre, kitchen and café, a chapel, meeting rooms, and a main hall.

A fundraising golf day, lunch and auction will be held at the North Foreland Golf Club on Friday, February 25. Call Brian Curtis on 01843 861079 or impact.curtis@ lineone.net for more details.

MOTORISTS facing January increases in fuel duty and VAT are being encouraged to visit a website which could save them hundreds of pounds a year.

believed they had been "massaged" by the inclusion of the high-speed rail service, HS1.

Commuters in Thanet argue they do not benefit from HS1, because the train did not speed up until Ebbsfleet, and instead were left with a reduced and overcrowded service.

"The figures used by Southeastern, which by a whisker have scraped above the compensation level, appear to have included the performance of the HS1 premium service which, although not infallible, is more modern and more reliable in bad weather than the "classic" services.

"HS1 is, of course, of little or no value to commuters from most of East Kent who either cannot use the service or do not wish to travel to St Pancras.

"I am sure that if the HS1 performance figures were removed from the equation we would begin to see the real, ghastly, figures that describe the service used by those commuting to and from work in London."

County Hall chiefs have unveiled a blueprint setting out recommended changes to rail services in a bid to improve Southeastern's substandard provision.

The Rail Action Plan for Kent looks to make sure the new franchise, due to start in 2014, delivers a service that meets the needs of the county's commuters.

Consultation on the draft plan for Kent runs until February 28 and amendments will be included before a final version is presented at the Kent Rail Summit on April 19.

FILMMAKER who directed 60s icon Susannah York's final film has paid tribute to the legendary

Jan Dunn, who runs Thanet-based production company Maeve Films, told KoS that, despite knowing the 72-year-old was ill, the announcement of her death came as a great

"It will be a big loss to the film industry – The Calling was the last film she did, but she had another one in her," said Ms Dunn.

"I think she should have been awarded a lifetime achievement award. She should have been recognised by women in film.

Ms Dunn wrote and directed The Calling, which also stars Ramsgateborn actress Brenda Blethyn and tells the story of a young woman who wants to become a nun.

It followed the company's first two award-winning films, Ruby Blue and Gypo, and opened the London Independent Film festival last year.

York, who lived in Clapham, got involved after a chance meeting at the Cambridge Film Festival in 2008, where she and Ms Dunn were both screening their films.

Oscar-nominated York, who lost her battle with cancer last week, agreed to be part of the movie which was shot in and around Thanet on a tight £500,000 budget.

Speaking to KoS Media ahead of The Calling's release last year, York who played a psychotic Mother Superior – said: "I had met Jan about a year before we started filming.
"I had seen some of her other work as a director and I liked her raw edge, the acting she got out of the stars, and the spirit of her films.

"I thought making The Calling would be a great lark, and actually it

THE benefits backlog caused by the fire that destroyed significant parts of the council's computer network has been cleared.

The whole building was evacuated,

A spokesman said the damage was limited to the council's computer sys-

"The IT systems for the whole council have been affected and this will have an impact on our service to our customers, particularly in council tax benefits and financial transactions, such as e-payments.

"Services, such as waste and recy cling, street cleaning and grounds maintenance, are unaffected by this."

Most services were back up and running by Thursday, with the backlog in payments cleared by Friday.

Fire crews called in from across the isle used breathing apparatus to enter the building and sprayed dry powder extinguishers on the flames to bring the blaze under control.

No-one was injured by the fire, but the evacuation and damage to IT systems caused widespread disruption.

Although the phone system was not affected by the fire, the council asked people not to call in with enquiries unless they were urgent.

An electrical engineer was called in to determine the cause of the blaze alongside a Kent Fire and Rescue investigator.

A council spokesman said: "Our IT team is working to get our services up and running as quickly as possible, but we are waiting on the advice of an electrical engineer.

"We would like to thank our customers for their understanding. We would also like to take this opportunity to thank Kent Fire and Rescue Service for their quick response.

"The council has plans in place for such incidents and these plans have already been put into operation.

Get involved as gallery reveals opening events

A SERIES of interactive events has been lined up to celebrate the opening of the new £17 million Turner Contemporary art gallery in Margate.

The 10-day You Are Here programme, which starts on April 16, aims to entertain visitors with a range of attractions which the public are also being invited to participate in.

While the final line-up has not yet been revealed, the gallery has announced the three big names from the arts world who have already signed up to take part in the festivities.

They are the internationally-renowned composer Orlando Gough, West End musical director Tony Castro, and Austrian choreographer Willi Dorner.

Mr Gough and Mr Castro will collaborate on The Big Sing project and are appealing for local singers to come forward and form a new modern music choir.

Five saved from sinking yacht

FIVE people were airlifted to safety before their yacht sank after running aground on a sandbank in the Channel.

The 35ft boat got stuck on the Goodwin Sands at about 1.30pm last Sunday. Both of Ramsgate RNLI's lifeboats, the all-weather Trent class Esme Anderson and the inshore Atlantic 75 Bob Turnbull, went to assist the stranded vessel.

Due to the shallow water around the yacht, it was agreed with the Coastguard that the best course of action was to await the next rising tide and attempt to tow the yacht off the Sands.

As a rescue helicopter had already been called in from RAF Wattisham, the yacht's crew were lifted off at 3.40pm and taken safely ashore.

At 6.10pm, the inshore lifeboat managed to get a tow line aboard the yacht and bring it clear of the Sands.

However, it was immediately apparent that the yacht was beginning to sink, so the only possible action was to release the tow line and note the position to report to the Coastguard.

It was thought that the yacht's keel had been badly damaged in running aground, and by the action of the sands.

International sea rescue

A BROADSTAIRS couple are safely on dry land in Malaysia after their sinking yacht prompted a dramatic UK rescue mission.

The British pair, and a Belgian crew member, called Falmouth Coastguard in Cornwall on Tuesday, January 11, asking for medical assistance after their skipper hurt his arm.

Their 14-metre vessel was 200 miles east of Sri Lanka, in the grips of a violent storm.

A duty doctor in Portsmouth advised the crew but less than an hour later they called again to say they had lost steerage, and they were taking on water.

The UK coastguards helped them activate their emergency beacon, called Sri Lankan and Indian authorities and sent a distress broadcast to any ships in the area.

Four merchant vessels and a Sri Lankan Navy ship helped to safely evacuate the three casualties, who were taken to Port Klang in Malaysia.

It's time to judge the county's finest

CONSUMERS have drawn up a shortlist menu for the annual Taste of Kent Awards having cast more than 10,000 votes to select finalists for the 12 prestigious categories.

Expert judges and mystery shoppers/ diners will now pick a winner from three finalists in each section ahead of a glittering awards ceremony on February 25 at Leeds Castle.

The competition is staged by Produced in Kent, which champions the best food and drink producers, retailers, restaurants, dining pubs and farmers' markets across the Garden of England.

See www.tasteofkentawards.co.uk for a full list of shortlisted businesses

Number plates help police fight crime

Number Plate Recognition (ANPR) team removed more than 320 illegal vehicles from the county's roads during 2010.

Vehicles can be seized if they are uninsured, the driver is driving without a valid licence or MOT, or because intelligence suggests the vehicle is believed or known to have been used in crime.

ANPR manager Martin Lyddon, said: "These figures should be pleasing and reassuring for law-abiding motorists, but worrying for those who use vehicles when committing crime because it indicates that it is quite likely that they will be caught.

ANPR works by reading vehicle number plates and running them through intelligence systems.

Disappointing' increase in most serious crimes

BURGLARIES, robberies and sex and drug offences are on the rise in Kent, according to latest Home Office statistics.

The figures for the year October, 2009, to September, 2010, suggest police are struggling to get to grips with some of the most serious crimes affecting the county.

Burglaries increased by 2.3 per cent to 12,700, while robberies went up by six per cent to 936, sex offences up by 15.6 per cent to 1,520, and drug offences by 8.5 per cent to 4,310. The number of thefts also rose by 3.8 per cent to 27,900.

Determined

Deputy Chief Constable Alan Pughsley said: "We have seen a continual decrease in burglaries over a number of years in Kent, so this small increase is disappointing but we are determined to bring the figures back down.

"We will continue to relentlessly target those responsible for burglaries in Kent in the coming months. The increase in the number of drugs offences recorded actually highlights our commitment to detecting and dismantling not only organised crime groups involved in the cultivation, production and trafficking of drugs, but also individuals who peddle drugs in our communities.'

Despite the upward trend in the most serious offences, overall crime in Kent has fallen by 3.9 per cent to a total of 108,000.

BY STEVE KNIGHT

This includes reductions in violent crime including knife and gun offences - as well as in criminal damage and offences against vehicles. Mr Pughsley said: "We have seen an overall reduction in crime over the past four years and these latest crime statistics are encouraging.

"But they also show us where there is room to continue our hard work and bring more criminals to justice. We will continue to tackle crime and disorder in Kent, keeping it one of the safest places in the UK."

Meanwhile, police have also revealed how one in three motorists stopped as part of a month-long Christmas drink-drive campaign either failed or refused a breath test.

Officers stopped 563 drivers between December 1 and New Year's Day, of which 171 were arrested. This compares with 1,397 stopped the year before, of which 195 were Insp Paul Sellwood said: "It's clear to me that most motorists heeded our warnings not to drive in bad weather. However, the drink drivers chose to ignore this advice as a third of those routinely stopped by police were arrested.

"Drink-drivers are clearly the motorists taking the risks. Kent Police takes a zero-tolerance approach to those who flout the law, and will continue to target drink and drug drivers throughout the year.

BANG TO RIGHTS: Kent Police say they are determined to 'relentlessly target' burglars after crime increased

QUESTION & ANSWER

SARAH MARMONT

Tell us a little bit about you.

I'm a 30-year-old personal wellness coach and independent Herbalife distributor, working part-time around my full time job as a service technician. My Herbalife business is into its fourth year, helping people to lose weight, gain weight, maintain a healthy weight, helping people find more energy and vitality and of course sports nutrition.

What's the 12 week community weight loss challenge?

I started Faversham Arriba Wellness Club in April 2009 to run the 12 week community weight loss challenges and extended to the Canterbury areas last year.

The community weight loss challenge is a health and nutrition course, at a cost of £39, where people can learn how to eat healthily and lose weight permanently. The biggest loser at the end of the challenge can win up to £300 based on a percentage of their original weight. Second prize is up to £200 and third prize up to £100, dependant on class size.

What's different about the challenge?

Every participant has a personal one-tonone appointment with me so I can help them identify their weaknesses and put a plan together that they can commit to.

We do weekly weigh, measure and full body composition analysis. Each week we cover a different topic, such as why we need to drink water, the importance of fibre, personal protein requirements etc. Participants can learn to make healthy choices for themselves for long term results and of course for their families too. Plus we have lots of fun, weekly prizes and quizzes in a great community atmosphere while making great friends.

Why did you start the challenges?

A I decided to run the challenges to be able to help more people with health and nutrition. In the past I have concentrated primarily on helping clients use Herbalife programmes on a one-to-one basis, however, we noticed a gap in the market place as people wanted the support and expertise of a Herbalife distributor, without necessarily purchasing the Herbalife programmes.

By running the challenges as a non-profit making enterprise, I can afford to help and support everyone in a group environment no matter how they choose to lose weight. All I ask is that they learn from the nutritional education, this is my way of giving back to the community.

We are not a weigh and go club, we concentrate on nutritional education and recognise each little step of achievement. Every participant's weight and measurements are kept private, with no naming and shaming. We educate to make little changes for results that last, so the information can be taken home to make the whole family healthier.

Why do people get fat?

Busy lifestyles make it too easy to go for fast food. We're not as active as we once were and combined with a lack of education, most of my clients believe they are eating healthily but too much can still be detrimental to your health. Simply put, we don't drink enough water or eat enough healthy sources of protein or fruit and vegetables.

So what's the secret to success?

Making little changes, drinking more water and being more active can make all the difference to reaching and maintaining a healthy weight. Learning to read and understand food labels can help as many people focus on low in fat, but it's often high in sugar.

Mow can people get find out more?

Acting opportunity

ACTORS from Holby City and Any Dream Will Do will be on the audition panel for a free acting academy for sixth-formers.

Successful applicants will be able to audition for a talent agent, get professional training from industry insiders, and earn a BTEC National Diploma in performing arts and an A-level. The panel will include James Anderson, of Holby City, and Craig Chalmers, from Any Dream Will Do; plus a Top Talent Agency representative, and actors from Actors Training and Bigfoot Theatre Company.

The academy is being run by Sarah Stanton, head of drama at Canterbury High School. The auditions are on Wednesday, February 2, from 10am-4pm. For more details call 01227 463 971 or email sstanton@canterbury.kent.sch.uk

Free open lectures

NUCLEAR weapons, the Olympics and film special effects are all the subject of talks in Canterbury Christ Church University's new open lecture series.

Highlights include John MacGregor, former ambassador to Warsaw and UK representative to the International Atomic Energy Agency, on nuclear weapons and nuclear power; Hugh Robertson MP, minister for sport, on opportunities for British sport in the 2012 Olympics; and a rescheduled lecture by David Crystal on accents and dialects.

The first talk will be by David Cowan, chairman of the UK Visual Effects Society.

All lectures begin at 6pm, are free and open to the public. For the full programme go to www.canterbury.ac.uk.

Watching the birdie counts towards national survey

BY JENNY ARMSTRONG

KENT schoolchildren are being invited to take part in the biggest bird survey in UK schools this winter.

The RSPB is organising the event as it is the tenth anniversary of its schools Birdwatch programme. Schools are getting involved until Friday, February 4.

Children and teachers can learn more about the birds they share their school with. Last year, 55 schools in the county took part in the national survey, including St Peter's Methodist Primary in Canterbury, Goodnestone Primary and Whitstable Community College.

Last year, more than 1,800 Kent children got involved in spotting and counting birds.

Sophie McCallum, from the RSPB, said: "For ten years young people have joined in counting the birds in their school grounds.

"As well as contributing to our understanding of the changes in bird numbers, the Big Schools' Birdwatch does a fantastic job of inspiring thousands of children about nature."

The survey helps the RSPB build up a picture of birds visiting the school grounds and their population changes.

In Kent last year, blue tits were the most common playground visitor. Blackbirds were the second most frequent playing field guest and black-headed gulls were the third most likely to pay schools a visit.

The RSPB has also set up a Little Schools' Birdwatch for children under five years old.

The charity has said teachers, helpers or children need no bird-watching expertise, as the RSPB has a free schools pack containing everything from guidance notes for teachers, a full colour bird identification poster, a counting chart and a survey form.

Miss McCallum said: "All you need to do to take part is watch and count the birds in your school grounds for one hour, then send one set of results back to the RSPB telling us what you saw.

you saw.

"Whether you have seen several exotic species or just a few of the most common birds doesn't matter – all sightings are useful to us."

For the free schools pack, click on www.rspb.org.uk/schoolswatch or call 0300 456 8340.

SEND your schools news and pictures to yourcanterbury@kosmedia.co.uk. You can also upload your video clips of schools events on to www.yourkenttv.co.uk developing confidence and individual talents

Give your little one a head start:

Dover College's Infant and Junior School educates children aged 3 to 11. Our caring professional teachers believe that by identifying each child's particular strengths, they can build the solid foundations which will help your child become a confident, happy and well-rounded individual. Strong moral values such as discipline and respect for one another go hand in hand with the academic life and extra-curricular activities already provided at the school.

Dover College offers you and your little one flexibility with full or part-time sessions. Your child can start throughout the academic year depending on availability. The Nursery Grant Vouchers for which Dover College is registered enable 3 to 5 year old children to attend a number of free sessions. Working parents appreciate our before and after school provisions from 8am until 6pm.

Our children need stricter classrooms

Considering the exorbitant amount of money our Marlow Academy cost in Ramsgate, the pupils' pass rates have gone down, not up, so apart from the pupils having free reins on the luxury side of this new venture, it just goes to prove, it is not the surroundings that give students the knowledge they need to acquire good jobs, it is good teachers.

Education is so important, not the materialistic things in life. There is an old saying you cannot make a silk purse out of a sows ear. Go back to the old way of teaching in the 50s-70s where all students were taught in straight lines on individual desks (no distractions) and everyone was taught the same thing at the same time. If students couldn't keep up, they were put into a lower stream, there was no need to employ classroom assistants, as all teachers managed teaching 42 plus in each class, as children were better behaved and showed respect for their elders

Those that had the brains and worked hard went to grammar school or technical school at 13. This was an incentive to work hard. Putting all students into one type of school is very wrong, as it destroys children's abilities. Segregating girls from boys into different schools always worked, we certainly didn't have the pregnancy rate of under age mothers as we have now. Boys were a distraction and visa versa. Discipline and stability is what they need, too many children are leaving school now, with no capabilities of saying their tables, many cannot even read or write, or speak our language properly. Too much freedom of speech is allowed and not enough regulation, these have severely damaged our society and communities. I hate what has happened to this country.

Single sex schools are the best way

I'm still not happy with the Knole Academy in Sevenoaks.

Academies have to teach City Technology College curriculum; is that appropriate for everyone? The news about Marlowe Academy in Ramsgate suggests that academies do not work. And why amalgamate two existing schools in Sevenoaks to make a mixed sex school?

My experience has been that the ability level of colleagues in the mixed sex environment in the workplace does not match the ability level in the single sex environment of school, and this leads me to believe mixed sex education must be a bad idea.

Foreign workers only come for a spell

Carole, The Chinese couldn't bring in the numbers of workers you claim as they couldn't be classed as 'essential workers' under our work permit system.

This was a nonsense claim made by the CGI company that they would have these workers here but would never have been allowed under our laws. The Polish workers haven't taken over our empty houses to the detriment of our locals, only rented from private landlords who are allowed to rent to whoever they wish to.

If the Polish workers will do the menial jobs our own unemployed refuse then why shouldn't an employer recruit them? Most have only come for short periods then go back home.

They haven't taken over council houses although some may live in ex-council houses now owned by private individuals. Thanet has plenty of empty properties so no-one who can pay rent need be without a roof over their heads.

TDC councillors didn't examine the facts in sufficient detail relating to either China Gateway or Thanet Earth since they can only take into account what the planning officers give them in the way of information. It's the officers who have to get the facts and present them to the councillors, not the other way round. When it comes to China Gateway one senior TDC officer was quoted in the press as saying he saw no reason why China Gateway shouldn't go ahead. Tail wagging dog or the reverse?

Not us to blame for government mess

I salute the Swiss compliance banker whose complaints about tax evasion went ignored by his bosses for years. It's ironic that whistleblowers are punished not praised.

Facts are more dire than fiction in post-modern England. I can't understand why we are unfairly made financially liable for all the errors and excesses of government.

Our legislators are severally and collectively responsible for the mess and shoddy legislation yet they are the ones milking us dry and throwing us on the scrap heap. In their pursuit of raiding our wallets, government has recruited armies of bureaucrats including the doctors and nurses who prefer mismanaging the NHS to caring for patients.

For example the too little, too late, Care Quality Commission found Bexley failed in 12 out of 15 aspects of stroke care. Bexley Council Social Services was criticised by a carer on Talk Radio this morning, always in the news for the wrong reasons, yet they will soon be in charge of public health as well as raising revenue and licensing.

Marquis named as a real rising star

A TOP restaurant near Dover has been awarded a 'rising star' award in the annual Michelin guide.

The accolade is given to eateries in line for a Michelin star in the future, giving the Marquis at Alkham – which is also a luxury hotel and wedding venue – added incentive to maintain its high standards.

Five Kent restaurants kept hold of their one-star ratings in this year's guide but there were no additions to the county's elite. They are the West House in Biddenden, Apicius in Cranbrook, Read's in Faversham, the Sportsman in Whitstable, and Chapter One in Bromley.

Meanwhile, the Number One B&B in Deal has been voted the fifth best bedand-breakfast in the world in the annual Travellers' Choice Hotel Awards.

Army of workers ready for potholes

KENT County Council says it is about to launch an army of specialist tarmac firms on a month-long campaign to fix 'safety-critical' potholes across the county caused by the winter ice.

caused by the winter ice.

The Kent small and medium-sized engineering firms are working alongside Kent Highway Services gangs in a £1 million drive to fix the potholes.

KCC leader Cllr Paul Carter said: "We know snow and ice cause damage to the roads and we are absolutely determined to fix the potholes."

KCC is also launching a drive to recruit tarmac firms for a repair campaign in the summer – when weather conditions are more favourable.

League tables give an 'unfair' picture of school performance

BY STEVE KNIGHT

EDUCATION chiefs in Kent have asked the Government to take special needs provision into account before publishing potentially damaging school league tables.

Secondary schools that contain a high number of children with special educational needs (SEN) often achieve lower than average GCSE results, and in some cases less than the National Challenge target of 30 per cent of pupils score five A* to C grades including English and maths.

Headteachers say this creates a negative perception of schools that in reality are helping SEN pupils obtain far better grades than would usually be expected of them.

Kent County Council has now written to education secretary Michael Gove asking the Government to come up with a fairer system.

One school that suffers from the current arrangements is the Malling School in East Malling, which has the largest SEN unit in the county and is included in the National Challenge scheme due to only 26 per cent of pupils achieving five A* to C grades including English and maths.

"Significant pressures are put on you if you fall below the 30 per cent target but we are being judged unfairly," said principal Carl Roberts. "Without the SEN unit we'd have hit 34 per cent last year.

Teachers' work with special needs pupils is ignored

EDUCATION SECRETARY: Michael Gove

"It's an absolute travesty when you look at the value added to these students. Our teachers work really hard and are so skilled at understanding their needs and getting them up there. But despite all that a league table comes out that puts us at the bottom and then people start using words like 'failing' and 'underachieving', and it's absolutely wrong.

achieving', and it's absolutely wrong.
"We should level the playing field by removing the results of SEN pupils so we can be judged the same as every other school."

In the letter to Mr Gove, KCC cabinet member for education Cllr Sarah Hohler claims the system provides disincentives for the development of further mainstream SEN provision.

She also calls for the Government to come up with a new way of judging a school's achievements as part of a forthcoming Green Paper on the subject.

Gravesend-based education adviser Peter Read said he felt sorry for the schools, which he claims may never reach the National Challenge benchmark under the current system.

He added: "The Malling School should clearly be doing better than that. It's just another factor that makes league tables not credible, but even Ofsted places more emphasis on exam performance so schools with SEN units are being penalised across the board.

"The only answer I can see offhand is that the results of mainstream pupils be counted separately to those of SEN children."

A spokeswoman for the Department for Education said it would be replying to the KCC letter "in due course".

She added: "Recognising the achievements and progress of all children and young people – including those with special educational needs and disabilities – is an important priority for the Government. The forthcoming Green Paper on SEN will be looking at how we could report the progress of the lowest-attaining 20 per cent of students in the performance tables.

"We will be seeking views as part of the consultation that follows its publication."

IN MY VIEW

Dancing on the hope of a fall

DANCING ON ICE (ITV1)

ONCE upon a time, the post-Christmas TV blues were relieved by the arrival of Celebrity Big Brother.

For Channel 4 it was the perfect dessert to the festive schedules - fresh, live content throughout January, which advertisers could really indulge in and viewers engaged with as they chomped through the last of the family box of Roses

It made money, the viewing figures were strong and the UK media loved nothing more than splashing the exploits all over its pages day in, day out.

In short it was a success. But 2011 dawns as a Big Brother-free zone. The concept shelved.

Which means people with an appetite for reality TV starring celebrities you have to stretch your mind to recognise, is there and seeking an outlet.

Enter, then, Dancing on Ice. Its premise is simple – take famous faces, stick them on the ice, see if they can dance. Viewers vote them out and Torvill and Dean teach them. It's been bubbling away for a few years now, but finally it is out there without competition.

Unlike BB, it's on once a week, rather than daily, and the chance of hearing a bit of swearing or gossip is as likely as buxom co-presenter Holly Willoughby being allowed to show the fun she does have in her, as seen on her stint with X Factor spin-off the Xtra Factor.

So we have the very middle class Phillip Schofield as anchor alongside our Olympic skating duo, and a range of stars for whom the word 'famous' is perhaps at most an abstract concept, rather than an accurate adjective.

Yet it remains compulsive viewing for the very reason ice skating probably captures such a large audience during the Olympic Games. It's not all about the poise and beauty of a couple cutting through the ice. It's simple. It's hoping they both fall over and end up in a crumpled mess. An even split in appeal, I grant you, but the truth nonetheless.

Normally, of course, it's the choice of celebrities which maketh the show. And producers have not been daft here. The starting line-up covered all bases and all demographics. There was Angela Rippon for those who remember her in her prime (not that it did her any good, being kicked out in the first week), there's Kerry Katona for the tabloids, and there's Radio 1's Comedy Dave - the obligatory person from a mainstream breakfast show, to ensure daily plugs. GMTV replacement Daybreak is clearly so unloved, it is no longer a first port of call.

It doesn't come with the punch and addiction potential of Big Brother, nor does it have that easy office conversation-starter of the X Factor, but it does remain strangely compelling viewing. Granted, I've never heard of the bulk of people on it, but there is something deliciously easy Sunday night viewing about it which is hard to resist.

CINEMA

BLACK SWAN (15)

NATALIE Portman collected a coveted Golden Globe award as best actress last weekend for her tour-de-force portrayal of an emotionally fragile ballerina in Black Swan.

She deserves to win the Oscar on February 27 for this career-defining performance that required 10 months of gruelling physical preparation before the cameras even started rolling. All that incredible will and discipline in the dance studio certainly pays off - not once do we doubt that Portman could perform the demanding solos from Swan Lake that punctuate this psychological drama.

The actress powerfully conveys the disparity between her character's physical strength and grace, and her mental frailty when insecurities and jealousy steadily gnaw away at her self-confidence.

Director Darren Aronofsky gracefully pirouettes between reality and fantasy as he joins Portman on this mesmerising descent into madness. He has plumbed some dark places in his earlier work including Requiem For A Dream, and The Wrestler. He should enjoy even greater success with Black Swan, which puts the actors centre stage but still manages to showcase his directorial brio.

Artistic director Thomas Leroy presides over a ballet company at New York's Lincoln Center, all too aware that his productions have lost their edge.

So he very publicly terminates the services of prima ballerina Beth Macintyre and chooses Nina Sayers (Natalie Portman) as her replacement to lead an erotically charged new staging of Swan Lake.

Nina $\bar{i}s$ $\bar{t}echnically$ gifted but struggles to express her emotions on stage, which causes friction with Thomas, who needs Nina to embrace her dark side if she is ever to play the Black Swan. Soon after, sensual ballerina Lily is cast as understudy to the lead role and Nina feels threatened, as if the new girl is trying to usurp her.

Harangued by her mother, a former dancer who gave up everything to raise a family, Nina wrestles with fear and paranoia, teeter-ing on the brink of an emotional breakdown.

Black Swan skilfully draws together elements of Aronofsky's previous films and stokes the tension as we become immersed in this tale of delusions and dreams.

Portman's fearless lead performance is complemented by some monstrous supporting performances, too.

Sequences from Swan Lake are dazzlingly choreographed to Clint Mansell's soundtrack (heavily inspired by Tchaikovsky's haunting score), making the ballet accessible and thrilling to audiences who are unfamiliar with the story of accursed Odette.

While the heroine of the ballet struggles to take flight, Aronofsky's film and his leading lady soar.

THE DILEMMA (12A)

THE truth hurts... almost as much as seeing the kernel of a good idea poorly executed on the big screen.

The Dilemma is a curious amalgam of heart-tugging drama and buddy comedy that lurches from class to crass.

On the one hand, screenwriter Allan Loeb tests the bonds of brotherly love as he puts characters through the emotional wringer, and Oscar-winning director Ron Howard elicits strong performances from Jennifer Connelly and Winona Ryder as the women caught in a web of lies.

Yet, every time the film strikes a chord, we are subjected to a ludicrous scene of idiocy involving Vince Vaughn and Kevin James that begs serious questions about why two intelligent women would ever entertain the advances of these buffoons.

Ronny (Vince Vaughn) and Nick (Kevin James) have been best friends since college and now work together at B&V Engine Design, the company they both own.

They hope to pitch their state-of-the-art electric engine design to executives at a major company. While Nick works tirelessly to iron out gremlins in his design, Ronny frets about proposing to his girlfriend, talented chef Beth (Jennifer Connelly).

During preparations to go down on bended knee, Ronny makes a shocking discovery: Nick's wife (Winona Ryder) is cheating.

Therefore Ronny faces an agonising decision: Keep the truth from his best friend until the automotive company has signed on the dotted line or tell Nick everything, aggravate his stomach ulcer and plunge the engine design project into chaos.

The Dilemma has all the makings of an intriguing dissection of male relationships, posing the question: What would we do in Ronny's position?

Connelly and Ryder play their roles straight, while almost all of the male actors milk laughs where they can. Changes in tone are jarring and by the time Howard draws proceedings to a close by uniting the characters in one location, we're secretly hoping the various relationships implode.

Of course, loneliness and regret do not sit well with audiences and so The Dilemma serves up simplistic, sugar-coated escapism.

MORNING GLORY (12A)

LADEN with one-liners, Morning Glory is a frothy comedy based around a shambolic TV breakfast show called Daybreak. Scriptwriter Aline Brosh McKenna hasn't been drawing inspiration from the critically lambasted replacement for GMTV.

Instead, she breathes in the jaded air of American network morning shows, which gently rouse viewers from their slumber with a blend of news and light-hearted humaninterest stories.

Against this backdrop of on-air calamity, McKenna charts the precarious rise of an ambitious young woman, drawing obvious comparisons with her screenplay for The Devil Wears Prada. Here, Rachel McAdams's perennially perky producer endures a verbal onslaught from a veteran anchorman, who believes that a job in front of the cameras on morning TV is far below him.

Becky Fuller (Rachel McAdams) is one of the brightest stars at Good Morning New Jersey but her sterling efforts are rewarded with redundancy. Unperturbed, the young producer telephones every network searching for a job, to the despair of her mother, who wants her daughter to give up her dream.

Thankfully, New York network manager,
Jerry Barnes, comes to Becky's rescue.

He offers her the poisoned chalice of Daybreak, the station's breakfast show which ranks a lowly third in the ratings.

Morning Glory is a hoot, distinguished by a scenery-chewing performance from Harrison

Ford as a revered news man.

McAdams is a tad insipid and her romance is a trifle, but when Roger Michell's film is focused on antics in and around the Daybreak studio, we're laughing uproariously.

Shappi laughs about her new way of life

COMEDIAN and best-selling author Shappi Khorsandi is heading to Kent for two shows.

An Evening with Shappi Khorsandi sees the star of BBC shows Live at the Apollo and Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow, discussing her new status as a single mother.

The new show reputedly reveals a more contemplative side as she muses over coming to terms with the lifestyle changes this upheaval brings.

Khorsandi's autobiographical book, a Beginner's Guide to Acting English, was published to great critical success.

She plays the Brook Theatre, Chatham, on Monday, February 7, call 01634 338338 or see www.medway.gov.uk/theatres to book

She's then at the Quarterhouse, Folkestone, on May 28, see www.quarterhouse.co.uk or call 01303 858500 for tickets.

Make the most of your big weekend of free attractions

THE website for My Kent Big Weekend – the annual giveaway of free tickets to the county's top attractions - goes live on Monday.

But organisers Visit Kent are reassuring residents they have plenty of time to choose from the thousands of tickets available to more than 100 of Kent's top attractions.

You will have three weeks to visit the website www.mykentbigweekend.co.uk so there's ample opportunity to bag tickets to sites ranging from hidden gems to internationally renowned cathedrals and castles.

Once the website closes, tickets will be allocated, by ballot, in readiness for the My Kent Big Weekend on Saturday and Sunday, March 26 and 27.

The initiative has grown out of the Kent Big Day Out, which was first launched by Visit Kent, the county's tourism champions, five years ago.

The aim is to raise awareness of all the attractions and destinations across the county that welcome 44 million visitors every year, contributing more than £2.5 billion to the local economy.

Sandra Matthews-Marsh, chief executive at Visit Kent, said: "We are now ready to have a whole weekend dedicated to celebrating our world-class tourism, leisure and hospitality businesses. Two days will enable even more people to take advantage of the free tickets and explore the many new and established attractions on their doorstep.

"Last year we did experience IT problems with so many people trying to log on to our website at the same time. So this year Visit Kent is following in the footsteps of such popular ticket events as Strictly Come Dancing and Wimbledon

"We are giving people more time to look through all the attractions and destinations welcoming My Kent Big Weekend visitors. Once ticket registration has finished, we will hold a ballot and people will only be allocated tickets for attractions they have chosen for the day they have selected."

Two free My Kent Big Weekend tickets are available per Kent household and anyone without access to the internet can register for tickets at their local visitor information centre. See the website for details.

Warm welcome and home-cooked food

The Chequers Inn

SITUATED in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, The Chequers Inn Free House and Restaurant is on the B2068, Stone Street at Petham, an old Roman road near Canterbury.

The pub has established an excellent reputation for home-cooked food. It is a free-house which allows it to have a wide range of real ales, and was listed for the first time in the CAMRA Good Beer Guide 2011

The Chequers Inn and Restaurant is a family-run business where you can relax by one of our two roaring log fires.

It is a traditional country pub where locals and visitors always receive a warm welcome.

A large restaurant is available for functions, and freshly-prepared food and a wide range of real ales and continental beers are all served in comfortable surroundings Saturday evening is Steak Night, while

Saturday evening is Steak Night, while there is a carvery on Sundays. A credit crunch special menu runs from Tuesday to Thursday, when two people eat for £13.95 The carvery offers a choice of topside of

The carvery offers a choice of topside of British beef, roast lamb, turkey with stuffing balls, gammon with honey glaze or mushroom and Brie parcel

The a la carte menu includes homemade beef, Guinness and mushroom pie, fresh cod in homemade beer batter and locally-reared steaks

The specials board changes often, and a couple of the favourites are steak and kidney pudding, chili con carne and scallops with king prawns.

A Valentines menu is available on Saturday February 12, and there is a special menu for young children.

Paul puts on A Different Hat

IT'S hard to resist the temptation to reel off lists of performances, sessions, hits and appearances that Paul Carrack has been involved in.

But when you have contributed to more than 60 albums in your career, the odd inventory is ou albums in your career, the odd inventory is going to have to pop up somewhere.

Described as "the hardest working man in modern music", the former Roxy Music and Squeeze musician will bring his annual 60-date tour to the garden of England this month.

Songs we never tire of hearing are set to follow Paul Carrack around for eternity as Squeeze's Tempted and Mike and the Mechanics' The Living Years remain synonymous with the Yorkshireman.

But as he rolls into Dartford's Orchard Theatre on Tuesday, and Tunbridge Wells' Assembly Hall a day later, Carrack assured me there was to be something very different about this tour.

In October last year, the multi-talented performer released his 15th solo album, A

He did so with the help of former Van Morrison drummer Pete Van Hooke as producer, and the pair say they have come up with a really new sound. Maybe that's because they also enlisted the help of musical royalty.

Carrack said: "This album was completely different to anything I have ever done before because we used the Philharmonic Orchestra to back us on the tracks. It was all very new.

Inspired by his recent tours with big bands, Carrack had been considering the challenge of making an orchestral record, yet retaining the intimacy and warmth he is noted for.

Armed with a nine-piece posse of his own, he is now ready to bring his new sound to the UK. But don't worry, there will still be a few classics thrown in.

Carrack said: "The show is still similar to previous tours in that we have a nine piece band, in which my son Jack plays.

"The group I play with now were already a band when I joined up with them, so there is a great team vibe that you don't always get when using session musicians.

Balance

"We wanted to keep it all fresh and do new songs, but it is also important to play a few of the big hits for the fans as well. However, this is by no means a nostalgia tour.

"We tried to strike a good balance."

The new album does renew some old classics anyway as Carrack gives his own rendition of Randy Newman's I Think it's Going to Rain Today.

Carrack said: "I am a big fan. it was a suggestion from Peter (Van Hook) and I didn't need my arm twisted!"

Well-loved songs made famous by the likes of Nat King Cole, Gerry and The Pacemakers, Peggy Lee, and The Eagles, also take their place on the 12-track album.

The 59-year-old is known for having an instantly recognisable voice after years as the vocal talent in 80s stalwarts, Mike and The Mechanics. And with more than 40 years of experience behind him surely it would be easy enough to just give anything a bash.

Apparently not, as the ever-progressive

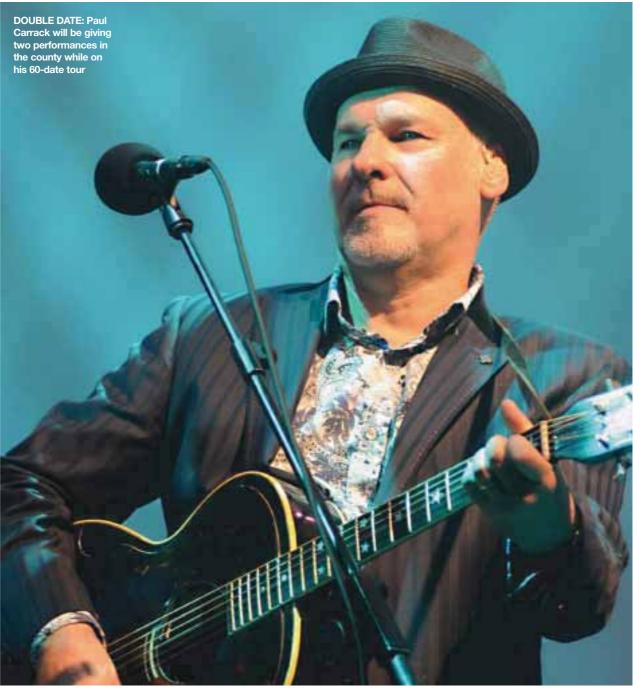

Carrack decided his enviable voice needed to change to fit the new record.

He said: "My natural territory is to sing quite loud, but it sounds much richer when I bring my voice down.

"We also found that the lower we made the key, the broader my voice sounded, engendering this intimacy. It's a different technique, it's harder and I couldn't have done this a few years ago. You're learning all the time.

It is now time for one of those lists, as Carrack is able to boast of the likes of The Eagles, Diana Ross, Tom Jones and Jools Holland having used his material. With performances on albums for The Smiths, The

JOE BILL catches up with one of the music world's most prolific performers

Pretenders, Elton John and Ringo Starr making up a small register of appreciative artists.

Now, although Carrack has gone on to push his boundaries musically and challenge himself to create new sounds, he has not forgotten about the diehard fans who jump every time they hear he is touring.

He said: "Many people pay to come and watch us every year, and some see us several times on one tour. So of course it is important to play some of the big hits from my time with various bands, as well as solo stuff. We always get a good reaction from Tempted and my big claim to fame, The Living Years." It would be easy to hang up his plectrums and let the royalties roll in while Carrack relaxes in his home in Chorley Wood, Hertfordshire.

But just the brief chat I had with him told me it was not in his nature to give up or stop. And the enthusiasm with which he spoke about his tour clearly demonstrated the buzz he gets from being on stage will probably keep him going for many years to come.

He said: "This is my job and it is always good fun to go to work with the guys.

"It is a really good family atmosphere on the tour and it is a pleasure to do this. I guess if it wasn't I would have taken up golf by now."

This addiction to changing and evolving performances is clear to see in A Different Hat, as Carrack takes on the often-performed and difficult to re-invent, Moon River.

The fact that the album closes with an updated rendition of his own song, It Ain't Over, just proves he Paul Carrack is the master of breathing new life into old material.

• Paul Carrack performs at the Orchard Theatre, Dartford, on Tuesday, January 25, with tickets costing £28.50. Call the Box Office on 01322 220000. He plays again at Tunbridge Wells' Assembly Hall Theatre on Wednesday, January 26, tickets are £27.50. Call the box office on 01892 530613. For more information visit www.paulcarrack.net.

It's jobs for Kent

On track for rail apprentice places

NETWORK Rail has extended its apprenticeship scheme for another year with places available at its Ashford and Orpington

Interest for the nationwide programme is at an all-time high, as almost 8,000 young people have pre-registered for 200 positions, including eight in Kent.

The firm is the not-for-dividend owner and operator of Britain's railway infrastructure, which includes tracks, signals, tunnels, bridges, viaducts, level crossings and stations.

Acting chief executive Peter Henderson said: "The huge numbers we're attracting each year shows young people recognise an apprenticeship can offer a path to a challenging and rewarding career.

"For us it has proven great value in investing in our people.

"With such competition for places it is vital that if business is to lead this country to economic recovery, the right support is needed.

"A more flexible approach offering equal support for all apprentices, whatever their age, would help businesses large and small create the apprenticeships and the skilled workforce Britain needs to thrive."

Mr Henderson revealed that in 2007 the majority of the firm's apprentices were aged 16 and 17, while now there are more 19-to-21-year-olds on the programme.

Apprentices aged over 22 have also increased five-fold since that time, making up 22 per cent of the total. The oldest apprentice is 35.

Meanwhile, Network Rail is also calling for a national debate on the funding for older apprentices.

The firm says equal funding support for over-19s as for those aged 16-18 would help businesses across Britain drive recovery and create as many apprenticeships as possible.

There is currently 50 per cent less support for apprentices aged 19 or over, making it more costly to run a scheme the older the person is who joins

Keep Kent Working! It's jobs for Kent

PROSPECTS: Since it opened 11 years ago, Bluewater has created more than 20,000 jobs, and now it has an apprenticeship scheme

Scheme prepares the experts of tomorrow

BLUEWATER shopping centre hopes its successful apprenticeship programme will convince other employers of the benefits to be gained from investing in youth.

Having created more than 22,000 jobs over the past 11 years, the business has stepped up its search for the retail experts of tomorrow by providing a select group of young people with the skills and experience vital to a career in the industry.

According to Bluewater's retail manager James Waugh, the programme for 16 to 24vear-olds involves both classroom and placement-based training on every aspect of running a successful retail business.

He added: "We recognise the importance of developing the next generation of retail experts, and of supporting the community by providing jobs and training.

"Offering apprentices the chance to learn new skills provides an employer with highly-motivated and enthusiastic individuals, therefore helping to boost overall productivity for business.

By STEVE KNIGHT

"Apprentices can also provide extra support through busy retail periods and projects, and are keen to take on new tasks to expand their knowledge. They offer a valuable insight into today's workforce.

"We hope the success of the scheme will encourage other businesses to introduce similar programmes across the country, and 10 years from now, the Bluewater Apprenticeship Scheme will continue to raise the educational and retail career aspirations of young people."

The training programme launched in 2009 with five apprentices, with the second intake being increased to seven last September.

Among those to have voiced their support for the scheme are Dartford MP Gareth Johnson, Dragons' Den star Theo Paphitis, and the National Skills Academy for Retail.

Those fortunate enough to win an apprenticeship carry out much of their training at the on-site Learning Shop, which has been accessed by more than 10,000 people over the past 11 years.

Mr Waugh revealed how the opening of the Events Venue at Bluewater later this year will create 100 new full-time positions, while the range and frequency of events held will create additional part-time jobs.

He added: "Bluewater recognises the importance of developing the next generation of retail experts, and the importance of supporting the community by providing jobs and training."

Young jobless offered help to get back on their feet

YOUTH charity the Prince's Trust has assured Kent's young jobless that help is at hand in finding training and employment.

According to a new report by the trust, 16to 25-year-olds who are classed as Neet (not in employment, education or training) are more likely to suffer from panic attacks, self-harm and self-loathing.

South East regional director Rosemary Watt-Wyness said: "Unemployment presents a real and frightening mental health problem for young people - and the longer they are out of work, the greater the risk.

"The Prince's Trust can help vulnerable young people back on their feet and into work, building motivation and self-esteem."

Thirty-three-year old Nigel Tait, from Hadlow, near Tonbridge, was out of work for more than four years before getting help from the Prince's Trust's enterprise programme to set up his own business.

Business Enterprise Award for his domestic appliance, electrical and plumbing repairs and sales firm, N Tait Services.

"When you're out of work your self-esteem really suffers," he said. "You feel like a failure, and it really affects your confidence.

"Not having anything to get up for in the morning made me feel increasingly depressed.

"I was also worried about money and whether I would ever be able to find a job.

"Starting my own business has given me a real purpose in life. Thanks to the Prince's Trust, I now feel confident and positive about the future."

Last year, the Prince's Trust supported more than 44,000 disadvantaged young people in building their skills, confidence and motivation. More than three in four moved into work, education or training.

Challenge days to shed new light on engineering

YOUNG engineers from six Kent schools took part in a challenge day organised by the Institution of Engineering and Technology (IET).

Last week's event was one of 45 held across the UK to encourage more pupils to consider careers in the 'Stem' subjects of science, technology, engineering and maths.

It was hosted by Bullers Wood School in Bromley, and included teams from nearby Coopers Technology College, Beaverwood School for Girls, Darrick Wood School and Hayes School, as well as from Kemnal Technology College in Bexley.

IET head of education Gareth James said: "Engineering is often an invisible industry among young people. They have preconceived negative ideas about what engineers look like and the jobs they do.

"Through these challenge days we aim to encourage more young people to study Stem subjects and consider engineering as a possible career path.

"The young people attending the challenge days will experience hands-on, practical events to challenge their perceptions and make them realise engineering is an exciting, rewarding career path."

REGULATION 1 NPRASTRUCTURE PLANNING
(APPLICATIONS: PRESCRIBED FORMS AND PROCEDURE) REGULATIONS PRESCRIBED FORMS AND PROCEDURE) REGULATIONS AND PROCEDURE)

DEVELOPMENT CONSENT ORDER AT KENTISH FLATS OFFSHORE WIND FARM, NEAR WHITSTABLE AND HERNE BAY, KENT
NOTICE PUBLICISING A PROPOSED APPLICATION FOR A DEVELOPMENT CONSENT ORDER ("DCO")
Notice is hereby given that Vattenfall Wind Power Limited (the "Applicant") of 10 Greycoat Place, London, SWIP 15B proposes to apply to the Infrastructure Planning Commission (the "Commission") under section 37 of The Planning Act 2008 for the above-mentioned development consent order (the "Application").
The Application relates to the construction and operation of an extension of the Proposition of the Proposition of the Application of the Proposition of the "Application").

The Application relates to the construction and operation of an extension to the existing 90 megawatt (MW) Kentish Flats Offshore Wind Farm, near Whitstable and Herne Bay in Kent (the "Project"). The proposed DCO will, amongst other things, authorise:

Construction and operation of up to 17 additional turbines to the south and west of the existing Kentish Flats turbine array. The extension would provide up to 51 megwatts (MW) of the control capacity and cover a maximum area of 8 km in water depths of approximately 5 metres. The turbines would have an expected rated capacity of around 3MW with a maximum tip height of around 145 metres. The turbines would be connected by subsea inter-array cables at a depth of around 0.5 to 1m and the foundations are likely to be steel monopiles driven about 30-40 metres into the seabed.

around 0.5 to 1m and the foundations are likely to be steel monopiles driven about 30-40 metres into the seabed.

Associated development comprising the installation of one or more export cables from the wind farm to the shore in the vicinity of Hampton Pier from where it is likely to follow the existing onshore cable route to the Red House Farm electricity substation. This route would take the cable along Hampton Pier Avenue turning west along Whistable Road for approximately 150m before joining Westbrook Lane. The cabling would run along Westbrook Lane under the railway line before reaching the old Thanet Way. It would then join Thornden Close before running along Thornden Wood Road for approximately 20m to the Red House Farm electricity substation. The route is approximately 2km in length.

Licences to authorise the installation of the turbines and cables on the seabed.

Such ancillary, incidental and consequential provisions, permits and consents as are necessary and/or convenient.

Such ancillary, incidental and consequential provisions, permits and consents as are necessary and/or convenient.

The Project is an Environmental Impact Assessment development. Accordingly, the Applicant will be making preliminary environmental information available. Highways - District of Thanet ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT, 1984 (ZEBRA CROSSING -A225 HIGH STREET, EYNSFORD, SEVENOAKS)

NOTICE is hereby given that Kent County Council, as local traffic authority and after consultation with the chief officer of police, propose to establish a crossing (Zebra) for pedestrians under Section 23 of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, and of all their enabling powers, as follows:

A225 HIGH STREET, EYNSFORD, SEVENOAKS

178 metres south west of the junction with Mill Lane

Highways - Borough of Tonbridge and Malling

(EAST MALLING PARKING PLAN - IN THE BOROUGH OF TONBRIDGE & MALLING) (WAITING RESTRICTION AND ON-STREET PARKING PLACES) (AMENDMENT NO. 4) ORDER, 2010

Notice is hereby given that the KENT COUNTY COUNCIL acting as the local traffic authority and in exercise of its powers under Sections 1, 2 & 4 of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 as amended, and of all other enabling powers and after consultation with the Chief Officer of Police in accordance with Part III of Schedule 9 to the said Act, proposes to make the above Order.

The effect of the Order will be to introduce The East Malling Parking Plan to improve access, safety and balance parking availability,

- A Residents Preferential Parking scheme is proposed for the following roads: Chapel Street, Church Walk, High Street, eastern end of Mill Street and the Access Road to The Village Car Park, With parking restricted to marked, designated on-street parking bays where road width, junctions and access points allow, with a limit of 4 hours (no return 2 hours) between 8am-6pm, Monday to Friday. Qualifying permit holders to be exempt from these restrictions
- 2. It is proposed to install restrictions in the lay-by in Twisden Road to assist with customer parking with parking limited to 1 hour (no return 1 hour) between 8am and 6pm, Monday to Saturday.
- Advisory roadside parking areas without waiting restrictions are proposed at the southern end of Middle Mill Road and the western end of Mill Street, where road width, junctions and access points allow to reduce obstruction and improve access for through traffic and public transport services.
- 4. An additional Disabled Persons Parking Bay is proposed in Church Walk and in the Access Road to The Village Car Park.
- 5. It is proposed to reduce the operating times of existing day-time waiting restrictions (single yellow lines) in The Rocks Road to prohibit parking between 10am to 10.30am Monday to Friday and extend this restriction towards the junction of Gilletts Lane. The same day-time restrictions are proposed for the full length of Rocks Close. These restrictions are proposed as a minimum measure to prevent long-term parking near East Malling Train Station.
- 6. It is proposed to introduce no waiting "At Any Time" (double yellow lines) in specific locations where it is necessary to reinforce the rules of the Highway Code and prevent parking in unsuitable places -The Access Road to The Village Car Park, Beech Road, Busbridge Close, Carnation Close, Carnation Crescent, Chapman Way, Chapel Street, Columbine Road, Cottenham Close, Elm Crescent, High Street, Jasmine Road, Larkspur Road, Lavender Road, Lilac Green, Lime Crescent, Mill Street, Middle Mill Road, New Road, Rocks Road, Stickens Lane, The Grange, The Rocks Road, Twisden Road and Wateringbury Road.
- 7. It is proposed to amend the layout of the 'School Keep Clear restrictions in Chapman Way to protect the revised vehicular and pedestrian accesses arrangements to St James the Great Primary School and The Childrens Centre. This is to support the aims of the School Travel Plan to improve safety for vulnerable child pedestrians. No change is proposed to the operating times of the existing restrictions.

The Order sets the cost of a residents parking permit at £30 per annum (£120 for business permits) which includes a card of 10 visitors youchers. Additional visitors vouchers are set at the cost of £10 for a card of 10 visitors vouchers.

The Order will contain the usual exemptions to enable a vehicle to wait with police permission or for passengers to board or alight, for the loading and unloading of goods, for enabling work to be carried out in or adjacent to the road, for disabled persons and for emergency vehicles.

A copy of the Order together with a map, a copy of the Councils reasons for proposing to make the Order, may be inspected during normal office hours at the offices of Tonbridge and Malling Council Offices, Kings Hill, Tonbridge Castle Gateway Centre, Kent County Council, Sessions House, County Hall Maidstone and East Malling and Larkfield Parish Council Offices, Church Farm, New Hythe Lane, Larkfield

If you have any questions concerning the Order or require further information please telephone 01732 876222 during nor office hours.

Any person wishing to support or object to the Order should write to the Director of Planning, Transportation and Leisure, Tonbridge and Malling Borough Council, Gibson Drive, Kings Hill, West Malling, Kent ME19 4LZ quoting the name of the Order and stating their reasons, by not late than 12 Noon on Monday, 14th February, 2011.

ENGLAND'S cricketing success in The Ashes series is just one reason to be cheerful at Jaguar.

Since the classic British sporting marque began a four-year sponsorship of the rejuvenated team last summer - all England players now drive a Jag - it has also scored several other boundaries.

Its flagship XJ model has taken leadership of the director-level segment of the market against tough opposition such as the Mercedes-Benz S-Class and BMW 7-Series, despite only arriving on the market in May.

Sales of the XK sports coupe and convertible also leapt 15 per cent in 2010 - double the rate of growth in its sector and in tough times.

And Jaguar's best-selling XF middleweight model has just enjoyed another record year of sales - up 25 per cent. It has now set sales records three years on the trot.

This has been helped by an astonishing record in awards around the world; it now has more than 80, including confirmation this week of a fourth consecutive win as

NEW BOUNDARIES: England cricket team sponsorship deal has coincided with a surge in sales for Jaguar's line-up (XJ main picture)

'Best Executive Car' at the annual What Car? Awards.

What Car? editor-in-chief Steve Fowler said: "We love everything about the XF: it looks fantastic, drives brilliantly and makes real financial sense, too."

Reviewing a great year for his brand, Jaguar MD Geoff Cousins said the key to success was desirable new models, competitive offers and a big-hitting TV advertising campaign for the XF and XJ, all helping to drive retail sales. But, he added: "We have also undertaken some incredibly successful partnerships in 2010, most notably with the ECB and the Ashes-winning cricket team.

"Since we started our association with the team they have been on a winning streak and the response from dealers and customers has been incredibly positive. We look forward to welcoming them home."

Pricing for the Jaguar XF now starts at £31,900 for the 3.0-litre diesel, while the XK starts at £63,900 and the XJ, from £55,500.

Solutely any make of car or commercial vehicle — we're the business!

Secret success of Mazda MPV

MAZDA'S revitalised MPV, the Mazda5, has been described as the 'best kept secret' in its sector by motor trade valuation service CAP.

The seven-seater arrived in showrooms last autumn and is now starting to filter into the used car market where CAP's market watchers have rated its residual values above that of established rivals, including the Citroen C4 Grand Picasso, Ford Grand C-Max, Peugeot 5008, Renault Grand Scenic and Vauxhall Zafira.

The Mazda's styling is distinctive, with a wave motif worked into the flanks; love it or hate it, the device does enable the car to stand out in a sector where the basic single box MPV design has a tendency to make models look alike.

This boost to the Mazda's sales appeal coincides with the arrival of a 115PS (113bhp) 1.6-litre diesel option, complementing the 1.8 and 2.0-litre petrol engines offered at launch.

The new version costs £20,650 in TS2 form and £21,950 in Sport trim and a low emission level of 138g/km makes it attractive to tax conscious company car drivers.

Dartford-based Mazda UK's fleet chief Peter Allibon said: "Once again, the experts are forecasting strong residual value and competitive whole life cost figures for another Mazda model. Added to a CO2 figure of below 140g/km we anticipate the new 1.6D will prove popular with fleet operators and company car drivers.

Glitzy but brawny Landie special

IF YOU thought Land Rover's brawny Defender was above wearing limited edition trappings, think again.

Because the 4x4 icon is due to appear from March in eye-catching X-Tech guise: silver exterior with black roof and wheel arches, 'Ebony' interior with leather side bolsters to the seats, and distinctive 16-inch 'Saw Tooth' alloys

The Defender's renowned all-terrain ability also comes as standard in a package costing £24,995 This special version is based on the 90 Hard Top

Commercial derivative, with a 2.4-litre diesel engine.

PEUGEOT has added two new models to the 3008 range, which has just retained the 'Crossover of the Year' title at the annual What Car? awards.

The Peugeot, which is part MPV, part 4x4 lookalike and part family hatchback, gains an SR and ENVY Special Edition in addition to the Active, Sport and Exclusive launch options.

The SR (from £20,645) is based on the Sport model, but gains colour sat nav, Bluetooth, and Grip Control with 16inch alloys with mud and snow tyres -Grip Control allows the front-driven 3008 to deliver traction on a par with a similar all-wheel drive car.

The ENVY (from £18,895) is also based on the Sport, but has been given an exclusive extra spec including rear privacy glass, aluminium exterior highlights, 'head-up' display and panoramic glass roof.

Platoon training under way

STEVELOADER

THEY say be careful what you wish for.

So I've only got myself to blame after joking in print about cars so dull to drive that you feel like putting your feet up, reading the paper and having a cup of tea, since that's exactly what we may be able to do on motorways within a decade.

It would be enabled by a development known as 'Platooning' – the objective of an EU-funded project called SARTRE (Safe Road Trains for the Environment).

The idea is that cars will be able to join an automatically-controlled convoy of other vehicles headed by a professional driver, allowing the following drivers to have a cuppa, read or presumably snooze even.

Meanwhile, each car is guided by the lead vehicle, with a narrow gap between cars to relieve traffic congestion. The system would also reduce fuel consumption and emissions, yet individual cars can leave the procession at

The road train would also require no modification to the roads used and could integrate safely with non-train vehicles. Science fiction? No. A working prototype has just been demonstrated by Volvo, one of the partners in a three-year European project headed by a British firm, Ricardo UK.

Tom Robinson, project co-ordinator for SARTRE said: "Platooning offers the prospect of improved road safety, better road space utilisation, improved driver comfort on long journeys and reduced fuel consumption and hence CO2 emissions."

The system could also be a major safety aid; statistics show human error causes at least 80 percent of road accidents.

But while the technology could soon be ready, road users in 25 EU countries may be less prepared to hand over control.

Time for another cuppa then, and some serious thinking.

Focus in March

FORD has confirmed that its all-new Ford Focus will be in showrooms for March, priced from £15,995.

It will be available initially in sporty fivedoor hatchback and suave five-door estate formats that bode well for a racy coupe style three-door model at a later date.

It distances this new car from the fairly humdrum styling of the second generation Focus too.

As a model that Ford will market around the world, the new Focus will also feature a range of advanced technologies, plus the more efficient, low-CO2 powertrains required by buyers and legislation.

These will include the new 1.6-litre Ford EcoBoost turbocharged petrol engine as well as updated versions of the marque's 1.6- and 2.0-litre diesels.

Vauxhall Astra 1.7CDTi Ecoflex

REMEMBER the good old days when an estate car was an estate car?

Unfortunately though, instead of suggesting that the car was part and parcel of some large and affluent rural establishment, the term 'estate car' came to imply that parts and parcels were all it carried, as a workhorse of tradesmen and sales reps.

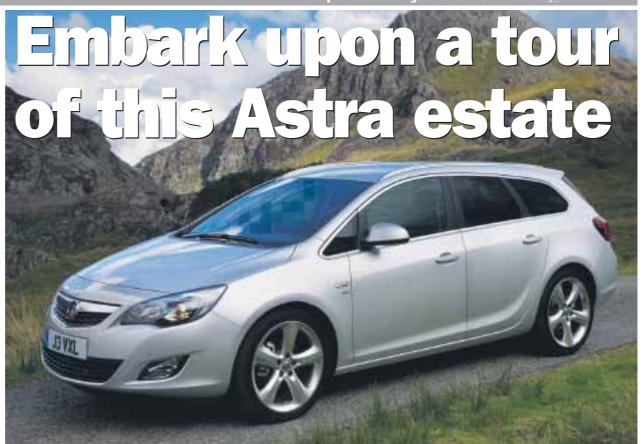

So, in a bid to revive its status, manufactur-

So, in a bid to revive its status, manufacturers began applying new words and styles to revitalise this traditional sector.

The Germans started it – let's have no more recriminations – when BMW dubbed its estate models with the term 'Touring', and Audi went further with 'Avant', both creating a rural/sporty lifestyle image that attracted new buyers

The word 'Tourer' also became popular and Vauxhall has applied the label Sports Tourer to its latest Astra estate model and, to be fair, it rests well on it.

The previous 2004-vintage Astra load lugger really was a tradesman/rep estate car; it was capacious, being based on the stretched Astravan platform, but ordinary looking and never likely to capture the lifestyle buyer.

Not an accusation that can be levelled at its more exotically named 2010 successor.

This is a class act, like the five-door hatchback from which it is derived, being good to look at, drive and be in and more than justifying the cocky label.

In fact, it's in a class of its own for now; I have put the Ford Focus down in the fact file as its most obvious estate rival, but it's plain to look at and eking out its last few days before replacement by an all-new model.

Closest in style to the Astra currently is Renault's Megane Sport Tourer, which looks racy but cannot match the Vauxhall for a level of class or quality that even nibbles at Audi A3 Sportback premium territory – yup, that's another estate car by another name.

To further scare the Astra Sports Tourer's outclassed rivals, there is also an efficient environmentally friendly Ecoflex version, as

The 125PS (123bhp) 1.7-litre diesel doesn't ask for any sacrifices to go green; it is lively, fun to drive and refined, and should average around 60mpg, while also costing just £30 a year in road tax after a freebie in year one.

And it handles well while delivering a decent ride, thanks to the Astra's much trumpeted Watts linkage rear suspension set-up that keeps the car taut on corners, without the need for teeth-shattering shock absorption.

Admittedly, the Ecoflex is not cheap at more than 22 grand, but list prices are there to be ignored, especially in the current climate.

Strike the right deal and the Astra will more than repay your faith. You can't even criticise the badge as too mainstream; Vauxhall has been moving upmarket over the past few years as General Motors seeks to pitch Chevrolet as its value brand.

Vauxhall design inside and out has also improved out of all recognition, with the bigger Insignia winning the 2009 European Car of the Year gong and the Astra and Meriva MPV narrowly pipped to the same title for 2010 and 2011 respectively.

Vauxhall, of course, has banged on lots about how it re-thought and applied its branded Flex treatment to the latest and airiest Astra cabin, but you need time with the car to appreciate how well it all works.

Not surprisingly, the extra functionality of the Tourer is also a huge bonus literally, especially as the slinky profile does nothing to affect the car's practicality – this Astra loadlugger is actually one of the most crammable in its class, but for the rather more functional Kia Ceed SW.

Chamber's cash crash threatens to descend into 'Thamesgate' row

By Steve Loader

steve.loader@kosmedia.co.uk

BOARD members are winding up Thames Gateway (Kent) Chamber of Commerce after its finances crashed over Christmas and New Year.

But the demise of the North Kent chamber now threatens to turn into a bitter row between the defunct chamber's board and the former chief executive Tracey Manley – a dispute sure to be dubbed Thamesgate'.

Manley has worked for the chamber and its Manley has worked for the chamber and its forebears for 20 years, but claims she was forced out in October. She is now pursuing an employment tribunal case alleging wrongful and unfair dismissal as well as disability discrimination – she had been signed off work due to anxiety and depression.

Statement

But the chamber, which has offices at the Medway City Estate in Rochester and covers the area from Dartford to Swale, insists that its chief executive resigned her post.

Thames Gateway's final management board – elected a year ago – has posted a lengthy statement on the chamber's website highlighting its concerns about the organisation's financial position: "At the beginning of October the chief executive resigned as a director and employee of the Chamber. Since that date the board have worked tirelessly in an attempt to reach serviceable agreements with all known creditors... and work with staff many of whom have been disenchanted and disillusioned for some time and in trying to ensure the Chamber continued to provide benefit to its members and customers."

However, the statement admitted that income

from export services faltered in late 2010 due to poor weather, which was then exacerbated by an alleged shortfall in membership numbers, which also impacted on income and left no option but to seek to wind-up the chamber last week.

Members have been recommended to seek

Members have been recommended to seek help and advice from neighbouring chambers, notably the Channel Chamber covering east Kent, and and the county's biggest chamber Kent Invicta, which stretches from Canterbury, through Ashford and to Maidstone.

Kent Invicta chief executive Jo James told Business Week the collapse of the chamber – which has its origins in the 1890s – was "very sad".

While unable to comment on the circumstances of Thames Gateway's crash, she added that it was important that her chamber – in concert with its parent, the British Chambers of Commerce – ensure that disenfranchised members of Thames Gateway should have access to all the usual services they expected.

"Kent Invicta has made it clear to Thames Gateway members that it will honour the subscriptions and provide the services they would have enjoyed until the end of the membership," she said.

"Of course we would hope they renew with us, but I just want to ensure that businesses in this area are not left high and dry at a difficult time."

On the question of the export documentation and processing, in which Thames Gateway was the dominant player among Kent chambers, she said Kent Invicta had invested in two additional staff to cope with demand.

Asked whether she would then actively seek to absorb the Thames Gateway area, she said Kent had suffered a history of chamber collapses over the years and she would not rush to step in until she knew exactly why Thames Gateway had failed.

Salvaged

Tracey Manley has said she was unhappy with the statement issued by her former employer and countered with her own.

This included: "Everyone who knows me or has worked with me over the past 20 years knows that I was 100 per cent committed to my job with the Chamber. It was my life.

"Despite all that has happened to me personally, I remain very committed to the Chamber, its members and my former colleagues and hope that some way can be found for the Chamber can be salvaged and continue to provide the excellent support and services it has to members over so very many years."

Armour secures funding protection

ONE of the UK's biggest consumer electronics groups is committed to defying the economic downturn after agreeing a multi-million-pound credit line with GE Capital.

The £18 million overdraft will allow Armour Group, which has its headquarters at Tunbridge Wells, to press on with expansion plans in its home and in-car communications and entertainment markets. It expects to spend more than £80m over the coming year.

Armour employs more than 300 people across eight operating sites in the UK, Sweden and Hong Kong. Major customers in the vehicle industry include Bentley, Hyundai, Scania Trucks, and Case New Holland tractors.

It also deals with retailing giants such as Halfords, Currys and PC World, Carphone Warehouse, Marks & Spencer, Comet, Argos, Tesco and John Lewis, yet Armour is probably all but unknown to most consumers as so much of its business is in supplying equipment to fit into others' products. Its best known brand is an enduring name in in-car audio: Radiomobile. Group CEO George Dexter said: "Despite difficult market conditions we continue to focus on ambitious growth plans. We appreciate that the funding provided by GE Capital presents us with the opportunity to remain attractive to our customers and to maintain our competitive advantage."

Alan Austin, GE Capital regional director, said: "We are very pleased be working with this highly professional management team who are seeking to take advantage of exciting growth opportunities in what remains a challenging environment."

Comment

E MAY be reading the last chapter on British Bookshops and Stationers, aka Sussex Stationers (see story opposite). During the current downturn, its formula – tidy but not flashy stores offering discounted books, stationery and greetings cards – should have fitted the shopper's bill, despite internet and supermarket competition.

But circumstances rather than the business model look like being the problem. One of those was undoubtedly an act of God: snowfall before Christmas, which wiped out the festive shopping windfall so crucial to many stores.

The other was cashflow. There can be many reasons for this, but a big clue here may be the sale of BBS to a private equity firm in 2009. Official interest rates may be low at present, but the county's business community know how hard it is to borrow cash on sensible terms, if at all.

The buyers of BBS took over a business that had expanded before the recession, yet just reported an annual loss of nearly £2 million. They probably hoped – in classic private equity style – to oversee a cost-cutting regime to both turn it around and turn a profit quickly and stay one step ahead of interest on money borrowed to fund their enterprise.

At the time, they may even have been encouraged by the crash of another big player in High Street bookstores, Borders, following an ill-fated private equity buyout. "More elbow room for us," they may have thought.

Unfortunately, they reckoned without a sluggish recovery on the High Street – and the pre-Christmas snow.

It is shaping up to be a familiar story. BBS could yet escape closure, but there will be other high street casualties to come that expanded on cheap borrowing and consumer abandon before the recession. They may have survived so far on increasingly expensive refinancing, but a day of reckoning looms.

Bigger potential victims are out there, too. Just months ago we reported fears for Kentish success story, Saga – the insurance and travel firm for the over-50s.

Still fabulously profitable in itself, the firm has to cope with massive interest payments on debt acquired by refinancing in 2007 to merge it with the AA within a private equity parent, Acromas. And there are many more cases like this, big and small.

Pedal to the legal metal in race to complete deal

LAW firm CooperBurnett claimed a coup after overcoming tight deadlines in the sale of Marden-based car parts supplier Automotive Distributors Ltd (ADL) to rival German group Ferdinand Bilstein.

"We first had contact with the purchaser's solicitors on December 17 and the deal closed on January 4, so the timescales were extremely tight, particularly considering that the final days of the deal took place over Christmas and the New Year," said CooperBurnett partner Victoria Sampson, who also headed the team handling the deal.

The deal for ADL also included the company's subsidiaries in Spain and Italy, and all rights to the Kent company's Blue Print parts brand.

ADL's board and management team remain in place, with the exception of Mark Hookway and outgoing chairman Chris Jeffries, who retires after leading ADL for more than 22 years

Bilstein MD Karsten Schüßler-Bilstein, said the combined group would "Have the expertise, information and manufacturing links to provide the parts aftermarket worldwide with a truly complete, independent solution for all makes and models of vehicle."

New face boosts anniversary team

COOPERBURNETT has announced the promotion of Jonathan Rowe to partner, and recruitment of Richard Theobald to join its wills and probate team.

Jonathan joined CooperBurnett in June, 2008, from a practice in Bermuda and previously worked in London, and has a broad range of experience in all types of property transactions and issues. Richard qualified as a solicitor in September, 2009. The law firm is celebrating its 30th anniversary this year and now has a team of 55, including 11 partners.

Beware of building up to court battle

COSTLY and increasing numbers of building disputes are jeopardising businesses in challenging times, according to a Hadlow-based surveyor.

Richard Metcalfe, principal at Metcalfe Briggs Surveyors, said there could be several reasons for the trend, but added: "Clients will often dispute that work has been completed satisfactorily in the hope of paying less, while hard-pressed building contractors might be tempted to take measures to protect their margins."

However, he warned that both courses could be false economies, embroiling firms in costly and lengthy legal battles that could have been avoided by a formal tendering process and agreeing a detailed specification for work to be carried out.

Warring firms could also head off a legal wrangle by calling in firms like his to arrange mediation by a chartered building surveyor. "They will look at the original agreement and give an opinion as to whether what was agreed has been delivered and whether the quality of work justifies the amount of money being asked for," he said.

"It becomes almost a forensic examination and the resulting report will often persuade one of the parties in the dispute to back down."

dispute to back down."

If the dispute cannot be resolved without recourse to the courts, the surveyor's report can be turned into an expert witness statement.

"The law requires a commonsense solution to building disputes, so you will need professional advice to achieve that." said Richard.

"Employing the services of a chartered building surveyor at an early stage could save you a lot of money in the long run."

PLAYFOOT and Company has merged with Top 100 accountancy firm, Begbies Chettle Agar. The combined entity, Begbies Playfoot, retains the Playfoot offices in Stone Street, Cranbrook.

Playfoot's managing partner and founder Darrell Playfoot will also continue with the new-look firm. He said: "It has been our concern to identify a firm whose expertise and operating style will suit and be advantageous for the interests of our particular client base and we trust Begbies Chettle Agar will be that firm."

However, he relinquishes his role as managing partner to Daniel Valentine from the Begbies team. He will divide his time between Cranbrook and the firm's London office and pledged that Playfoot's management and staff would stay in place.

Ironically, Begbies used to have a Kent office but relinquished it in 1973. Playfoot and Co was founded in 1986.

A NEW networking group will be launched by the north Kent branch of the Federation of Small Businesses (FSB) in Medway at Priestfield Stadium, Gillingham, from 7.30am to 9am on Thursday.

Staged in association with Help For Heroes, it is open to all businesses, FSB members and potential members, and will then be held at the same venue on every last Thursday of the month throughout 2011. FSB branch chairman Neville Gaunt LAW firm associate Laura Small, of Cripps Harries Hall, has gained Resolution accredited specialist status in the area of children's law and financial provision on divorce.

Laura trained with Tunbridge Wells and London-based Cripps and has over five years' experience as a family solicitor.

She said: "As a committed Resolution member I approach all my cases in a non-confrontational manner, hopefully reducing the emotional and financial costs of divorce or separation."

Set up in 1999, the Resolution scheme is designed to help those facing family breakdown to find a specialist solicitor to handle their case in a conciliatory fashion.

To become accredited, solicitors undergo stringent examination to demonstrate their knowledge of the key areas.

Cripps is now one of just a few law firms in the South East with two Resolution accredited specialists.

BEEF and lamb producers across Kent have been invited to find out more about the work done by EBLEX, the organisation promoting the industry's quality standard mark.

The free event, at Ashford Market from 5.45pm to 9pm on Thursday, February 3, is intended to update on export markets for beef, lamb and offal, and on marketing, and there will be a butchery demonstration showing innovative meat cuts to maximise carcass value and versatility.

There will also be information on measures the sector can take to reduce its impact on climate change. To book a free place, email selma.todd@eblex.org.uk.

WEALDEN Business Group has presented a cheque for £800 to the Hospice in the Weald. The money was raised throughout last year by the group's weekly breakfasts at the Little Silver Country Hotel, Tenterden, and other events. The Pembury hospice's Amanda Wyatt accepted the cheque from business group chairman Mike Parmar, of Wave2 Communications.

RELAXED: Travelodge will open a new hotel in Ramsgate this year, says Guy Parsons

Tough trading has bookstore chain on brink

DISCOUNT bookstore British Bookshops and Stationers (BBS) – more familiarly known as Sussex Stationers – has gone into administration.

The firm has branches in Ashford, Canterbury, Tunbridge Wells and Maidstone and around 50 in all across the South East, but has been brought to the brink by poor sales during the severe pre-Christmas weather and cashflow problems in its dealing with publishers.

But recovery specialists at Zolfo Cooper have been appointed as administrators and hope to sell the chain as a going concern, potentially saving some 300 jobs.

Zolfo Cooper partner Simon Appell said: "The appointment is, unfortunately, the result of cashflow difficulties suffered by the business, coupled with the tough trading climate for retailers and especially booksellers at present.

"This is an attractive company with a large network of stores across the south of England and we have already received expressions of interest from potential buyers."

The firm was founded in 1938 as Sussex Stationers in Brighton and steadily expanded reently with its formula of newspapers and magazines plus discounted books and stationery, despite the presence of high street giant WH Smith and mega-bookstores such as Waterstone's and the now defunct Borders, which crashed in 2009 citing tough competition from the internet – a factor which may also have affected BBS.

An early warning sign was owner Eason and Sons' decision to sell BBS to private equity firm Endless in May, 2009, after a reported 2008 pre-tax loss of £1.8 million.

A management buy-out followed and the chain was reported to be making a recovery after a jobs and cost-cutting drive, but it now risks becoming the first High Street crash of 2011.

Parsons knows Kent coast can offer the most

LOCATIONS in Kent are part of expansion plans for Travelodge, which aims to sustain its claim to be the UK's fastest growing hotel chain.

It has 35 hotels (3,667 rooms), 700 new jobs and a £300 million spend slated for the UK this year to take its estate to 495 hotels.

These include re-development at Canterbury's Chaucer Central hotel and an all-new hotel on Ramsgate seafront.

The latter, on Royal Parade, will create 15 jobs and have 68 beds and a bar/café.

Guy Parsons, Travelodge chief executive, said the chain had hunted a hotel for the seafront for some time, adding: "I have no doubt that when the site opens it will quickly become one of our top performing hotels this summer.

Delighted

"Our nearby site in Margate has performed strongly for us throughout the recession so I am delighted we will be opening a new hotel in Ramsgate in 2011. The location is perfect for both business and leisure visitors.

"The hotels we will build this year have been a result of Travelodge's commitment to expand during the recession whilst many companies put their development on hold.

"As a result of the recession, we have successfully acquired superior sites due to lower market property prices, which otherwise would not have been available for hotel use."

Travelodge was Britain's first budget hotel brand when it launched in 1985, but it has also diversified away from its traditional roadside locations and focused more on city centre growth.

German firm favours our sunny disposition

GERMAN solar energy SunConcept Holding AG has expanded into the UK and set up a subsidiary at Kings Hill, near West Malling

The Government's introduction of Feed-in Tariffs on April 1, 2010, for localised solar and wind power generation has made the UK attractive to solar energy companies anyway, but Catherine Stevens-Jung, MD of SunConcept's UK arm said: "Kent is ideally positioned for our business, allowing us to easily access other parts of the country and the continent. Kent is also a very sunny county, making it an excellent location for solar energy.

"We plan to expand our Kent operation over the next three years to replicate our German presence, and in time hope to be able to look for warehouse facilities here.

SunConcept's arrival in Kent was masterminded by inward investment agency Locate in Kent, where chief executive Paul Wookey said: "It's very exciting that Kent is attracting companies like SunConcept, with their knowledge-based, quality jobs and expertise in the renewable energy sector. The UK's solar energy market is expected to grow considerably over the next few years and Kent is in an excellent position to benefit."

Government incentives mean energy suppliers make payments to householders and communities which generate their own electricity from renewable or low-carbon sources. As a result, a recent PricewaterhouseCoopers report estimated that the country's solar PV (photovoltaic) energy capacity could grow 30 times to reach 1,000MW (megawatts).

SunConcept manufactures its own PV solar modules backed by a planning, installation and investment package and sells directly to customers and other installers, but wants to target owners of agricultural land and commercial roof space, county and district councils, as well as registered social landlords interested in leasing roof space or land in return for free installation of its solar systems.

Those customers then benefit from the free use of electricity generated onsite, but surplus can then be sold on by SunConcept.

Matt's debt of Hayesbrook's

THE BG INTERVEW

At a time when many jobless graduates question whether the time and cost of a degree was worth it, entrepreneur Matt Sankey beats the drum for a more vocational approach. He has enhanced the reputation of his family's well-established Tunbridge Wells restaurant, and also developed a new fishmonger business that is making waves across the South East - not bad for a bloke who never really liked school and left at 16. JON COATES tracked him down during yet another hectic week YOUNG entrepreneur driving forward a rapidly expanding family business believes failing the 11-plus was the "best thing" that ever happened to him.

After struggling to settle at four private primary schools, Matt Sankey was able to find his feet at a comprehensive.

And he says his time at Hayesbrook in Tonbridge taught him the people-skills needed to take the reins of his family's fish restaurant and bar in Tunbridge Wells, which celebrates its half century of trading next year.

Matt said: "You do not have to have an academic upbringing to succeed in the restaurant and pub indus-

I am not very academic, but I learned how to deal with people from different backgrounds, different upbringings, different financial situations and racial backgrounds at Hayesbrook, which I would not have got at a private school or a grammar.

"Failing the 11 plus and going to Hayesbrook was the best thing that could have happened to me."

Since taking over as manager of the business in Mount Ephraim Road five years ago, he has increased its performance by 20 per cent every year.

And a Sankey's fishmongers, which opened last year, has also proved such a success that he and co-owner Graeme Anderson, 32, are set to open a warehouse to

As well as supplying Sankey's bar and restaurant, they are now sourcing quality fish and seafood for 100 other restaurants and nursing homes from Eastbourne in Sussex across to Whitstable in Kent.

Tunbridge Wells.

They will take on 15 new staff to work at the ware-house, adding to the seven already employed at the fish-mongers and the 30 employed at Sankey's bar and restaurant. And the man at the helm of Sankey's, who is aged just 30, has ambitious plans for further ventures in the town which are being kept a closely-guarded secret for now.

He said: "Next year we are celebrating 50 years of Sankey's in Tunbridge Wells, which I am so proud of as this a huge achievement for a family business.

"The fishmongers will be expanded. Once we have the warehouse open we will be able to expand the wholesale side of this business and with regards to the pub and restaurant side, there are several blueprints for expansion

"We are just waiting for the right opportunity to arise, as I am not going to do something for the sake of it. Any plans have to fit in with the brand and be a positive addition to the organisation, like the fishmongers has been."

His grandfather started the family business in 1961 by buying the George and Dragon pub in Speldhurst and creating a restaurant upstairs.

His son, Guy, worked at this restaurant, before working in London and then taking on The Gate in Hildenborough, near the train station.

He turned this into a seafood restaurant called Sankey's at The Gate, before taking over the lease of the Compasses in the same village and turning this into a booming bar and restaurant.

FTER learning that Sankey's current location in Tunbridge Wells was on the market, Matt's father moved the business there in 1987 and has not looked back.

Matt left school aged 16 with, in his own words, "not many GCSEs" and "no ambition of working in a pub".

He took a sales job at the Sunglasses Hut in Royal Victoria Place, which he says he loved, and then moved on to the Carphone Warehouse in the shopping centre for five years, becoming its manager. After trying his hand as a recruitment consultant he worked for motorsport team Jota, making sure tyre pressures and temperatures were correct on their cars.

But a call from his father Guy five years ago, saying he was thinking of selling the family business to retire, prompted a change of direction, with Matt asking to be given time to learn how to run Sankey's as manager with a view to taking it on.

He bought the business from his father earlier this year, so is now in complete control of the Sankey's empire.

The business has been forced to adapt to changes in recent years, with professional people taking less time for lunches and wanting to spend less, as well as enjoying the informal setting of the bar for food.

And Matt's use of sustainably sourced fish and seafood has also proved popular with customers and the wholesale market.

The new owner, who regularly works 80 to 100 hours a week, says he has been able to drive the business forward because he is passionate about what he is doing and has great managers and staff.

He said: "My philosophy with the pub is that it is very easy to work at a pub and all of a sudden it becomes your lifestyle and one day you end up sitting at the bar, drinking with the locals.

"Some people can do that but I can't. For me it is a job and so when I am here it is work only. I have a drink when I go out socialising, but not here.

"Over the last few years I have brought in a hard work ethic as I wanted to build the business up, but it is a slow progression to make the changes needed over Matt also decided to invest in one of the most important parts of his business, his staff, when the recession hit.

He said: "I realised that if I started making cutbacks I could lose customers for life.

"We are in the service industry, so I actually took on

"We are in the service industry, so I actually took on more staff to make sure everyone coming to Sankey's bar and restaurant left saying how great the service was.

"The staff are the last point of contact with customers so are very important in leaving them with a good impression that will keep them coming back."

MATT'S TOP TIPS

- "I believe the two most important parts of your business are you staff and customers.
 They are the two vital cogs that constantly need oiling"
- "Communication with customers, whether it be via social media, networking or old-fashioned conversation, is vital. Listen to them they hold the kevs"
- "Retail is detail, all the little details add up"
- "I also have the following rules that I stick to, they are not mine but work a treat:
- 1 Always treat the customer as you yourself would like to be treated
- 2 Winning an argument with a customer doesn't win anything but the loss of that customer
- 3 If we don't look after the customer someone else will
- 4 Always deliver what you promise. If in doubt, under-promise and over-deliver
- 5 The reputation is in the hands of every individual"

Food and drink industry builds up to Kent awards

FINALISTS in the Taste of Kent Awards 2010 are just five weeks from hearing which of them will be the county's 12 food and drink heroes, writes Steve Loader.

The competition is staged by Produced in Kent, which champions the best food and drink producers, retailers, restaurants, dining pubs and farmers' markets across the "Garden of England".

Last year's awards generated an 89 per cent increase in public votes, and current voting has again exceeded 10,000, this time nominating 542 businesses and products to contest the 12 food and drink 'Oscars'. Some categories have been amended to reflect changing trends and tastes.

Three finalists in each category are now subjected to an expert judging panel and mystery shoppers/diners, and the winners will be revealed at a glittering awards ceremony at Leeds Castle on February 25.

Notable 2010 highlights include Kent Seafood Retailer of the Year (sponsored by South East Seafood), which has seen a 50 per cent rise in votes. Independent fishmongers have faced some of the biggest challenges in retailing and South East Seafood was "delighted that voters are supporting local fishmongers".

 $Best\ Kentish\ Brewery\ of\ the\ Year\ (sponsored$ by Cask Marque) is another hotly-contested category, with a 28 per cent increase in votes reflecting new interest in brewing after the resurgence of micro breweries in the county. Previous winner Ramsgate Brewery joins the UK's oldest and Kent's largest brewery, Faversham's Shepherd Neame, in the final three, together with Whitstable Brewery, which actually brews near Maidstone.

The newly re-named Kent Dining Pub of the Year category highlights gastro-pubs serving excellent and hearty Kentish food. Votes here rose by 39 per cent resulting in a fierce battle.

rose by 39 per cent resulting in a fierce battle. New finalists in this category are The George and Dragon in Chipstead, which tackles previous winners The Haywain (2009), near Canterbury, and The Plough (2008), near Faversham. The county has shown itself to have a sweet tooth so, battling it out for Kent Food Product of The Year (sponsored by Opies), are three expert producers of sweet treats: Madame Oiseau Fine Chocolates being nominated for its Kent Honey Caramel; Blue Bell Hill Apiaries for its Kent Honey; and Kent Fine Foods for its Lavender Jelly.

Excellence

The east of Kent continues to be a centre of excellence in food and drink and Thanet nominees show particular strength in the various category finalists: fishmonger and gourmet fish and chip shop Eddie Gilberts is nominated for Seafood Retailer and for Restaurant of the Year; J C Rooks of Ramsgate is short-listed for Meat Retailer; Ramsgate Brewery is a Best Brewery finalist; Quex Barn is up for Best Local Food Retailer; and Em's Cupcakes of Ramsgate has designs on Artisan Food Producer, but faces local competition from a former winner, The Chai Stop, the Ramsgate Asian cuisine specialist.

Perhaps most impressive of all is Cliftonville Farmers' Market which has reached the top three in the Farmers' Market category for five years on the trot.

Julie Monkman, manager at Produced in Kent said: "The Taste of Kent Awards continues to go from strength to strength as consumers vote in their thousands to acknowledge some of the best producers and retailers of food and drink.

"All three finalists in each of the 12 categories have done incredibly well to get this far and they all help to maintain and raise the bar for Kent as a county of excellence for food and drink production."

BUSINESS WEEK SPOTLIGHT I.T. AND COMMS

Superfast broadband: Is it arriving quickly enough?

Development of the internet's scope, options and services are fast outstripping the ability of the UK's outmoded and still fragmented broadband network. Yet this area of technology is vital to the economy of Kent and the UK generally as it seeks to rebuild after recession. Business Week editor STEVE LOADER uploads some thoughts on where we are now and where we could end up, and it's a mixed picture – a bit like the one some are getting through their current broadband link...

VERY business and community has been promised access to superfast broadband by 2015 under latest Government plans.

And it was vital that the Coalition made the pledge this early in its term if it was to stand by its commitment to rebuild a broad-based UK economy.

But it is caught between a rock and hard place: Culture Secretary Jeremy Hunt said it wanted the UK's broadband to be the envy of Europe once this new infrastructure is in place, but it will not be cheap and – as we all know – the country is strapped for cash.

The proposal is to borrow the model used successfully by South Korea, which has quickly put in one of the world's best networks – up to 100Mb/sec – by tapping into the ambition and investment of private firms there. But South Korea's economy is one of the healthiest in the world and that's not something we can say about Britain's, and where will the Koreans have got up to when and if we've upgraded from a national average yet to hit 2Mb/sec?

Nevertheless, Coalition ministers calculate that some two-thirds of the new comms network can be funded by private firms, while a dwindling public pot can be raided for the less commercially attractive rural areas — more than £800m is expected to be needed.

Reaction from businesses and the public has been less than ecstatic though, since the previous government had promised a universal 2Mb/sec broadband speed by 2012 – a lifeline to areas saddled with an outmoded dial-up service when so much new broadband-hungry tech is finding its way into homes and businesses.

I spoke with the boss of a hi-tech video firm in his studio last week who was almost punching the desk with frustration while a YouTube video uploaded with glacial speed to his high-spec Mac computer.

his high-spec Mac computer.
But the Government's argument — a not unreasonable one — is that rather than trying to play catch-up by delivering modest speeds already enjoyed by many already, we should aim to leap ahead and become the best in a fast-changing comms environment.

The industry regulator Ofcom recently revealed that fewer than one per cent of homes currently have superfast broadband connection – rated at 24Mb/sec at least.

But the Government has been vague about what it calls 'superfast' and cites other factors as important which, reading between the lines will probably be the fastest and most widespread service it can get for its money and what the private sector is prepared to chip in.

Users are understandably cynical anyway, since very few get the broadband speeds advertised even now. Why would they expect superfast broadband to deliver what it

Several IT gurus have told me rather ruefully: "At least our disappointment would arrive a bit faster if we get all this investment."

There is also the apparently insoluble problem of speeds dropping the further your business or home is from the broadband community hub or exchange

The suggestion is that many of the hubs in any new network will use speedy fibre-optics in their immediate areas, thereby extending the reach and speed of services to more outlying locations that remain connected using older connections.

Even this looks like fudging the issue, though, when some European neighbours like Holland are now going 'fully optical'.

However, the cost of that approach is probably prohibitive and unrealistic in a larger country like ours and with a far more dispersed population and industry than that of the Netherlands. The real concern is that we will continue to get the patchwork quilt we have now, with the private sector reluctant to invest any more than it has to, while focusing more on just economic survival.

Meanwhile, areas which have been identified as 'needy' such as the wilds of Wales and Scotland, will attract public and EU funding and leapfrog ahead.

One further possibility is a local initiative like that in Cornwall.

Most businesses in the Duchy –

Most businesses in the Duchy – long regarded as a depressed area overly reliant on a fickle tourist industry – will have access to 100Mb/sec fibre optic broadband by 2014 after announcing a ground-breaking £132m partnership between BT and Cornwall County Council and backed by some EU cash.

It is estimated the project will create or protect some 6,000 jobs. BT is now championing this partnership approach as a widespread solution. Food for thought here in Kent?

Help us build an extension to Kentish Flats Offshore Wind Farm

Vattenfall, a leading European energy company, would like to extend its Kentish Flats Offshore Wind Farm (also known by local people as Whitstable or Herne Bay Wind Farm) with up to 17 wind turbines. This Statement of Community Consultation explains how you can comment on its proposed application for a development consent order to the Infrastructure Planning Commission.

Kentish Flats Extension - the proposal

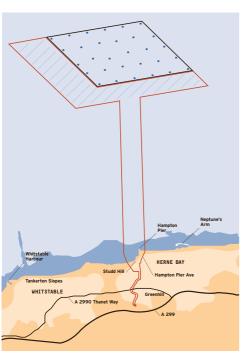

The existing Kentish Flats wind farm with 30 wind turbines has been producing green electricity since 2005. The proposed extension is around 8km off Herne Bay and will be to the south and west of the current project. It could add up to 17 wind turbines in 7.7 km2 of sea, in water depths between three and five metres at lowest tide.

The wind turbines for the extension will have a similar capacity to those currently used, with a tip height up to 145 metres. The turbines will be placed on top of large steel tube foundations which will be driven up to 35 metres into the seabed, similar to the current scheme.

Underwater cables will connect turbines to the existing offshore substation from which one or two underwater cables will run to shore at Hampton Pier, Herne Bay. Onshore, the new cables will follow the route of the existing cabling along the Hampton Pier Road under paved roads to the Red House Farm substation south of Herne Bay. KFE will not require any changes to the power grid.

Due to its scale, Vattenfall must do an assessment, known as EIA, of possible significant environmental effects of the extension. We are also seeking views from all interests, including the public, on the proposal. We will consult on the whole project and have identified the following as likely to be important:

- Potential cumulative impacts on Red-throated divers in the Thames Estuary
- · Visual, landscape and seascape effects
- Impact on fishing, leisure and business interests, including tourism
- Impact of onshore construction on nearby households
- · Impact on traffic on roads caused by onshore works

There will be an opportunity to consider these and other points, during the consultation process. We will make available the preliminary findings of our EIA. This initial environmental information will also describe any alternatives we are considering and measures to minimise impacts.

Why Vattenfall wants to extend Kentish Flats

Kentish Flats Extension (KFE) could generate up to 150,000 megawatt hours per year of clean electricity, if 17 turbines are deployed. This is equivalent to the total annual electricity needs of up to 35,000 UK homes.

The UK's delivery of its offshore wind potential could supply the equivalent of 30% of the country's electricity demand. Offshore wind in the UK will help European green energy targets and the reduction of emissions that cause climate change.

Vattenfall is committed to major reductions in carbon emissions from its activities as an energy company. Wind power will it meet that commitment

About Vattenfall

Vattenfall is a leading European energy company and is Europe's fifth largest generator of electricity and the continent's largest producer of heat. Across the north of Europe we operate many wind farms on land and in the sea. This includes Kentish Flats and Thanet Offshore Wind Farm, which is the world's largest offshore wind farm.

Statement of Community Consultation and the Infrastructure Planning Commission

In 2008 new planning laws changed the way projects like KFE are dealt with. Under this new regime the Infrastructure Planning Commission (IPC) controls the planning process for nationally significant infrastructure projects. Vattenfall will submit its proposal to the IPC following a consultation with both the community and organisations including the local authorities, Marine Management Organisation and Natural England.

We will carefully consider all responses received and when the application is made we will report to the IPC and all responders detailing how we have taken the communities' views into account.

The IPC will ask Kent County Council and Canterbury City Council for their opinion of the Vattenfall community consultation. The Councils' opinion will play an important part in whether the IPC accepts the application.

Other planning matters

When the IPC decides on KFE it will take into account any energy related National Policy Statements (NPSs) published by the UK Government. These are currently in draft but will be finalised before a decision is made. These include: Energy (EN-1); Renewable Energy Infrastructure (EN-3); and, Electricity Network Infrastructure (EN-5).

Vattenfall is unaware of any other applications to the IPC or local authorities or consultations which are relevant to this proposal.

You can view a document which describes our approach to the consultation on the Vattenfall website.

If you need help to understand this proposal and the IPC process you can contact Planning Aid by calling 0870 850 9806 or visiting www.rtpi.org.uk/planningaid/planning_aid_in_your_area/south_east/

This community consultation starts on 31 January, 2011 and you must reply in writing by 4 March, 2011 using the methods described above.

Please note that responses may be made public.

Help us build the best possible wind farm - get in touch

Vattenfall has already started its consultation but the formal community consultation runs from 31 January 2011 to 4 March 2011. Kentish Flats is already an important feature in the area and we value our good relations with local people.

Please look at our proposals, the preliminary environmental information, maps and other documents. All of these will be available on our website for the duration of the application and, during the consultation period at the locations noted below.

Your views will be taken into account as we complete the assessments of the KFE, finalise the design of the wind farm, and before we submit an application to the IPC.

We will also do the following to help the Thames Estuary coastal community, especially around Herne Bay and Whitstable, and other interests, express their views on our plans:

- Contact by letter homes and businesses likely to be affected by our plans
- Hold public information and consultation days in Herne Bay and Whitstable with specialist staff on hand
- Advertise our plans in local papers
- Advertise the Statement of Community Consultation in local papers in the Thames Estuary region
- Hold separate workshops and meetings with fishermen, other users of the sea and the region's businesses
- Continue meetings with the Area Member Panels and Parish Councils of Whitstable and Herne Bay
- Maintain contact with all those who have shown an interest in the project
- Continue working with local media to publicise Vattenfall's plans
- Place all relevant documents on the Vattenfall website, including a questionnaire
- Work with Kent County Council and Canterbury City Council to inform local interests of our proposals explaining how they can get involved
- Work with both Councils to identify and engage with hard-to-reach groups
- Place the PEI, maps, other relevant documents and envelopes and questionnaires in the Harbour Office, Whitstable Harbour, the Canterbury City Council office in Herne Bay, Medway Council (Gun Wharf, Dock Road, Chatham), Swale Borough Council (Swale House, East Street, Sittingbourne), Thanet District Council (Cecil Street, Margate), Maldon District Council (Princes Road, Maldon), Rochford District Council, (3-19 South Street, Rochford) Southend-on-Sea Borough Council (12th FI, Civic Centre, Victoria Avenue, Southendon-Sea), Castle Point Borough Council (Kiln Road, Benfleet)
